

A diagram illustrating two clusters of data points, labeled 'Left' and 'Right', separated by a vertical line. The 'Left' cluster contains 7 red dots, and the 'Right' cluster contains 8 red dots. The dots are scattered within their respective regions, with the 'Right' cluster having a point further to the right than the others.

Left

Right